Council Proceedings.

President Milam and all the members were present except Councilmen John E. Miles, Swigert and Watson.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Judge B. G. Williams appeared before the council and asked that further time be granted Mr. F. E. Lewis, in which to make answer, before the final vote be taken on the revocation of his license. He also presented a petition of neighbors remonstrating against the action of the council in the matter.

On motion of Mr. Gray, the matter was postponed until the next meeting.

A petition from E. D. Willis, for a pool room license, to be run in the house at the corner of Washington and Clinton streets, was referred to the license committee.

The petition of Thos. Bright well, asking a grocery license, was read a second time and adopted.

The resolution making Tuesday, October 10, an additional registration day, was read a second time and adopted.

The pavement ordinances were read a second time and adopted.

The reading of the ordinance in relation to pipes on the bridge was postponed until next meeting night.

Mr. Furr, from the bridge committee, stated that Mr. Ruple, the contractor for the stone work on the new piers, desired to make a proposition in relation to purchasing the wood work and stone in the old bridge and piers. The matter was referred to the joint committee of the city and county on bridge.

There being no further business the council adjourned until the regular meeting night.

BOILER PLATE

Causes a Newspaper to be Sued for $50,000.

Last year the Evening Journal of this city was publishing Associated Press dispatches which were sent out by a house in Cincinnati in stereotype plates, ready for use. One day last October the Cincinnati house sent to the Journal a lot of plates in one of which was a dispatch from Philadelphia stating that the Auer Incandescent Light Company had been robbed by Tyndale Palmer, a former newspaper man, and a hotel keeper in Rio Janeiro, of $440,000. The publishers of the Journal used the plate and thought nothing more of it until Monday, when Palmer filed suit in the Franklin Circuit Court against all three of the gentlemen interested in the publication of the paper at the time for $50,000 damages, alleging libel. While the action is not causing any of the defendants to lose sleep, still a law suit is not a very handy thing to have around, and newspaper men generally should be warned and let "boiler plate" severely alone, using only home print.

A Green Old Age.

Mrs. Mahala McDowell, mother of Mrs. M. Buckley, Sr., and grandmother of Mrs. Thos. J. Brislan, celebrated her 93d birthday yesterday. Mrs. McDowell is very active for her age and her step as springy as that of ladies many years her junior. Many friends called to congratulate her and express the wish that she may live to celebrate her centennial.

Encircling the South Side.

The electric railroad having been completed, with the exception of a few finishing touches, to the O. F. C. and Carlisle distilleries, the construction force was moved to the South Side Wednesday morning and set to work on Second street, at the intersection of Shelby, to put in the loop in South Frankfort.

How to Become Fleeshy.

Dr. Miles Nervine not only cures all nervous diseases, headache, blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuralgia, St. Viton dance, fits and hysteria, but also builds up the body. I am pleased to say that after years of intense suffering with nervous disease, headache and prostration, I tried Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and in two weeks gained eight pounds in weight. I could not lie down to sleep, but now sleep perfectly easy, and am still improving wonderfully. Cannot say enough for the Nervine. Mrs. L. B. MILLARD, Dunkirk, N. Y. "One customer used Nervine and gained fifteen pounds in flesh," says BROWN & MATHEWS, Cortland, N. Y. Trial bottles and elegant book free at J. W. Gayles.

Shocked the Neighbors.

On Saturday night the insulation on the electric light wire which runs into the grocery of Mr. James Heeney became rubbed off, letting a portion of the current become diverted into the iron work of the front of the building. The lintal, the pillars on each side of the door, the door step and the awning frame all became so heavily charged with the fluid that everyone who came in contact with either was shocked. The first that was known of it Miss Emma Morris was passing by, accompanied by her dog Jim, when Jim stepped into the door and received the shock. He set up a howl and tumbled over, and to make the din worse the parrot in the back of the store began to yell "Here dog! here dog!" Every one thought Jim had been poisoned, and a little crowd gathered around to see him die, when a boy who had just had a wrestle with one of the awning posts explained the matter. Lewis, the little colored porter, without knowing what was the trouble, caught hold of an awning post, and immediately began to dance up and down and call for some one to hold him. A barefooted colored boy, before he could be prevented, set his foot on the door-step and was knocked down, and persons stepping over the iron portion of the step felt a shock.

A board was placed on the step, but ladies stepping upon it jumped off quickly and screamed. Mr. Hathaway, superintendent of the Gas and Electric Light Company, was sent for and soon remedied the matter.

A bright-eyed little girl undertook to tell the ROUNDABOUT all about it, and said a man had been blown up down at Mr. Heeney's; that he fell out into the street and got his face all muddy. When asked if powder or gas had caused the explosion, she said she thought the gas came up out of the ground, went over and got him and threw him out in the street.

A New Attorney.

The card of Mr. Chas. T. Ray appears in another column, in which he offers his professional services to the people of this community. As he is a stranger to most of our people, we will say, by way of introduction, that he is from Lebanon, a cousin of Gov. J. Proctor Knott, and a graduate of Central University at Richmond, Ky. He came to this city with Messrs. Knott & Edelen, under whom he took a law course, and has just opened an office in the Hume building. He is a young man, full of energy and will give prompt attention to all business intrusted to him.

Fire Wednesday Morning.

About 3 o'clock Wednesday morning a fire broke out in a small frame building on Arsenal Hill, belonging to the estate of the late Geo. B. Macklin, which was unoccupied, and the roof was about to fall in when the fire was discovered. The flames communicated to the building adjoining, occupied as a grocery by Messrs. Boicourt & Steffee, greatly damaged it and destroyed stock it contained. Miss Nellie Boicourt and Miss Maud Steffee were asleep in the back room, and Mr. Bob Steffee under the counter of the grocery, and all three came near being burned to death, only escaping in their night clothes when the fire began to fall in upon them. An alarm was turned in from box 23 and the fire department was on hand promptly and succeeded in extinguishing the flames before the grocery was entirely consumed. The loss is about $700, with $300 insurance on the Macklin building, $300 on the grocery and $250 on the stock.

A Smash Up.

Two buggies, one driven by Dr. George Horine, of Graefenburg, and the other by Mr. Bernard Graham, collided at the corner of Bridge and Conway streets Monday night. Dr. Horine's vehicle was badly smashed and he was thrown out but not injured. Mr. Graham was thrown over the dash board and his forehead bruised. His horse then ran away and tore the buggy to pieces.

Miss Nicol, who lives on Cross street, in endeavoring to get out of the way of the frightened animal, fell and was seriously injured.

Called back to health—every tired, ailing nervous woman. The medicine to bring her back is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she's weak, run-down, and over-worked, that will build her up; if she suffers from any of the distressing derangements and diseases that afflict her sex, it corrects and cures. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nerve, and the only guaranteed remedy for the ills and ailments that beset a woman. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions, improves digestion, dispels achs and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength. All "female complaints" and weaknesses are positively and permanently cured with the Favorite Prescription. It's the only medicine for them that can be, and is, guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back. Something else may be better for the dealer to sell—but think for yourself whether it can be "just as good" for you to buy.

Large Leaves.

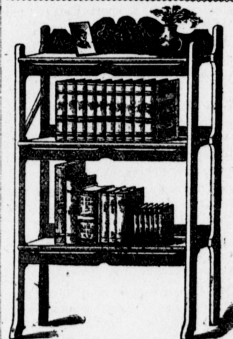

Mr. D. M. Woodson brought to this office on Thursday some sample leaves of a crop of White Burley tobacco raised on his farm near Harvieland. One leaf measured 36½ inches long by 19¼ wide, and another 40½ inches long by 19½ wide, and were very heavy. The leaves were pulled from a ridge, but Mr. Woodson says he has larger ones along the branches running through his field. He has seventy five acres in tobacco for which he expects to get the top of the market.

Justly Entitled to It.

Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure is justly entitled to the praise it is receiving. Wherever introduced it has proven itself the most reliable remedy known for the cure of coughs, colds, hoarseness, whooping cough, bronchitis, soreness of the lungs and every kind of a cough from a simple cold to incipient consumption. Purely vegetable. Always reliable and effective. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

The Fountain Head of Strength.

When we recollect that the stomach is the grand laboratory in which food is transformed into the secretions which furnish vigor to the system after entering and enriching the blood; that it is, in short, the fountain head of strength, it is essential to keep this important supplying machine in order, and to restore it to activity when it becomes inactive. This Hester's Stomach Bitters does most effectively, by gently stimulating digestion, promoting due action to the liver and bowels, strength and quietude of the nerves, and in great measure upon thorough digestion. There is no purgative tone more highly esteemed by the medical fraternity than the Bitters. Physicians also strongly commend it for colds and feverishness, indigestion, kidney and bladder trouble, sick headache, and want of appetite and sleep. Take a wineglassful three times a day.

Prized Away From Home.

Several weeks ago we advertised for issues of the ROUNDABOUT of December 24 and February 4 last, to complete our files, and both were sent us from Binghamton, N. Y., where Mrs. George W. Gwin, a former Frankfort lady, lives and has long been a subscriber to the paper. She evidently prizes her weekly visitor and lays it away safely after it is read. She has placed us under obligations, as we would have been compelled to bind our file with at least one number missing had it not been for her kindness.

I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a specific for croup. It is very pleasant to take, which is one of the most important requisites where a cough remedy is intended for use among children. I have known of cases of croup where I know the life of a little one was saved by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. J. J. Ladrange, Avoca, Nebraska. 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. For sale by P. H. CARPENTER, Druggist.

CHRISTUS CONSOLATUS.
The enclosed poem, found some years ago, has been a source of peace and consolation to sorrowing hearts, and no doubt if published in your columns would continue its office of love, especially so since you chronicle many deaths in your pages last week. The name of the author of this gem is unknown to me. Very truly,
A FRIEND.

September 25, 1888.
Beside the dead I knelt in prayer,
And felt a presence as I prayed.
Lo! it was Jesus standing there—
He smiled: "BE NOT AFRAID."

Lord, thou hast conquered death, we know;
Restore again to life, I said,
This one who died an hour ago—
He smiled: "DEATH IS NOT DEAD."

Asleep, then, as Thine self I keep
Yet Thou dost lift the veil that keep
Her prisoned eyes from ours away—
He smiled: "SEEK NOT TO SLEEP."

Nay, then, tho' happily she doth wake
And look upon some father dead,
Restore her to our hearts that ache—
He smiled: "SEEK IS NOT GONE."

Alas, too well we know our loss,
Nor hope again our joy to touch
Until the stream of death we cross—
He smiled: "THERE IS NO SUCH."

Yet our beloved seem so far
The while we yearn to feel them near,
Albeit with Thee we trust they are—
He smiled: "AND I AM HERE."

Dear Lord, how shall we know that they Still walk unseen with us and Thee?
Nor sleep, nor wander far away!
He smiled: "ABIDE IN ME."

Hi Henry's Minstrels Oct. 12.

Those who are proverbially complaining and asking, why we do not of amusements have a better class, will have their wishes gratified by the appearance of Hi Henry's Celebrated Minstrels at the Opera House on Thursday, Oct. 12. This organization has a reputation in the minstrel line second to none.

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this remedy is taken as soon as cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other will cure a cold so quickly. For sale by J. W. Gayle.

Many Persons are broken down from overwork or household cares. Brown's Iron Bitters rebuilds the system, aids digestion, removes excess of bile, and cures malaria. Get the genuine.

THROUGH SLEEPING CARS
—VIA—
BIG FOUR ROUTE
—TO THE—
World's Fair.

We all love comfort, especially when traveling; and what a great comfort it is to be able to take a sleeping car at your own home which runs right through to Chicago without change and lands passengers at the Entrance Gate to the World's Fair without change or transfer of any kind. How can this be accomplished? Why, simply by asking your local agent for tickets via the Big Four Route, which is absolutely the only line running through sleeping cars in connection with the E. T. V. & G. Ry. and Queen & Crescent Route direct to the World's Fair Grounds and landing passengers conveniently to the World's Fair Hotel District. Through Sleeping Car leaves Macon 11:15 a. m., Atlanta 2:10 p. m., Rome 4:55 p. m., Chattanooga 7:25 p. m., and arrives Chicago 1:15 p. m. Ask for tickets via the Big Four Route, and for further information address E. O. McCormick General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati.

Great Meeting at Georgetown.

Dr. Chapman, the celebrated evangelist, will commence a revival at Georgetown to-morrow, and all protestant denominations in the city have united in the endeavor to make it a grand success, and a large Tabernacle, sufficient to accommodate 3,000 people, has been erected in which to hold the meeting. The success of Dr. Chapman as an evangelist is wonderful, and wherever he goes the building provided is never sufficient to hold all the people who attend. A writer from Saginaw, Mich., where he held a meeting last year, writes: "Dr. Chapman's meetings were an unqualified success; nothing to parallel it has been witnessed in Saginaw. * * * The whole city was stirred. Men who had not been seen in church in this town were drawn out by the score. Nearly 1,600 signed cards professing a desire to live a Christian life. Judges, prominent business men and laborers all attended. One hundred and twenty joined one church in one day." He has just closed a meeting at Chambersburg, Penn., where crowds were so large that the police had to regulate the attendance.

A large number of our people will likely attend during the progress of the meeting.

Second Street Improvements.

Messrs. Taylor & Glone, the contractors, have completed the curbing, guttering and grading for the sidewalk on the south side of Second street, from the Chiles property to Main, and yesterday began spreading sand preparatory to laying brick.

The construction force of the street railway have the ties down from the intersection of Shelby and Second to beyond Logan and are putting down a switch at Heeney's corner and laying rails out Second. The street has had a very lively appearance this week and looked like the old town was going ahead.

H. B. LOGSDON, Agent.

"During my term of service in the army I contracted chronic diarrhoea," says A. E. Bending, of Halsey, Oregon. "Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow." For sale by J. W. Gayle.

Matrimonial.

RODGERS-SANDERS—Miss Kate Sanders, of this city, will wed Mr. Rodgers, of Wichita, Kan., on Wednesday the 18th inst.

ALTSHELER-WILSON—Mr. Edward Altshele, of Louisville, and Miss Minnie Wilson, daughter of Col. C. Y. Wilson, late commissioner of Agriculture, will be married October 12 at Cave City.

CLARK-STRODE—We have received the following invitation to the marriage of one of the most popular young men in the city:

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Strode invite you to witness the marriage ceremony of their daughter, A. Kate, to

Mr. Vernon L. Clark, Wednesday evening, Oct. 23, 1893, at 7:30 o'clock, Baptist Church, Winchester, Ky.
At home after November 1, Frankfort, Ky.

REED-O'CONNOR—Mr. William Reed and Miss Mary O'Connor will be married Thursday evening next, at 7 o'clock, at the Catholic parsonage.

The prospective groom was for several years an employee of the ROUNDABOUT office, but is now with the Capital, and is a hard-working industrious young man, while the bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lucy J. O'Connor, of High View, and a very estimable young lady, who will prove a valuable helpmate to Will in his struggle to get on in the world, and we wish them all the happiness allotted to man.

Flooring the Bridge.

The floor of the L. & N. Railroad bridge is completed half way across from the east side, and had not the force been called off and sent to repair a bridge on the Knoxville Branch, it would have been completed by to-day week. It is quite an improvement over the old structure, as it has a walk way on the north side, which will enable pedestrians to cross when trains are passing, which they could not do before, the space between the cars and the railing being too narrow.

It is very likely that all vehicles passing to the South Side will have to go by way of this bridge when the St. Clair street bridge is taken down, as the city authorities have been unable to make a satisfactory arrangement for a wagon ferry and will probably only establish one for pedestrians.

That Joyful Feeling

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered, but never accepted by the well informed.

Off for the Fair.

A large excursion party of about thirty people left this city Thursday afternoon in a special boudoir sleeper, to go over the Kentucky Midland and Big Four roads to Chicago. They were joined at the Forks of Elkhorn by five or six more and at Georgetown by about 50 or 60 from Paris. Among those who went were: Judge G. B. Swango, wife and son, Mr. Charley Swrngo, Mr. Chas. F. Exum and wife, Messrs. Noble Lindsey, Will. A. Bull, E. C. Hathaway, Misses Emma Morris, Josie, Lucy and Daisy Hughes, Maggie and Louise Daniel, Cora Blakemore, Archie Quarles, Lizzie Crutcher, Louie Gibson, Mamie and Clara Chesney, Willana Smith, and Mrs. South Trimble.

Deaths.

FULLER—Mrs. Joseph Fuller died Thursday afternoon at the residence of her husband, near Stedmantown, and was buried yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

HODGE—Mrs. Fannie Hodge, sister of Judge Thos. H. and Mr. E. W. Hines, of this city, died suddenly at her home in Bowling Green on Monday. She leaves five children to mourn her loss.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class matter.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, OCTOBER 7, 1898.

May Get Free Delivery.

Col. J. N. Crutcher, of Bellepoint, has been endeavoring for sometime to secure free postal delivery for his village, and wrote to Senator Lindsay upon the subject some days ago, asking that he see the Postmaster General and endeavor to have an additional carrier appointed for this city, whose duty it should be to deliver the mails over in Bellepoint. He received a letter from the Senator on Thursday in which he said he would give the matter his personal and prompt attention, and see what could be done.

This will be a great convenience to the residents of that thriving suburb, and should Col. Crutcher be successful the people of his town should show their appreciation of his efforts in their behalf by electing him Mayor emeritus, for it was due largely to his efforts that a floor is being laid in the railroad bridge, and he is the moving spirit in the effort to have that bridge made free of toll when it is completed, and is always a warm advocate of everything which tends to the advancement and improvement of the Point.

Result of the Registration.

Thirteen hundred and sixty-one voters registered in the city on Tuesday, divided as follows:

FIRST WARD.

Vogler's Store—Democrats 111; Republicans 112.
Bridge—Democrats 170; Republicans 49.

SECOND WARD.

Market House—Democrats 215; Republicans 128.

THIRD WARD.

Court House—Democrats 146; Republicans 49.
Gas House—Democrats 188; Republicans 177.

Sixteen of those registered failed to give their party affiliation.

The total registration during three days last year was 1,811, and there yet remain of that number 450 to register—105 in the First ward, 270 in the Second ward and 91 in the Third ward. Many of these will doubtless take advantage of the additional registration next Tuesday to have their names recorded.

Want Free Lunch Also.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 4, '93.
Editor Roundabout:

Will you kindly request the office-seekers of the North Side that in the future when they propose to send free whisky and beer to some of the voters of the First Ward, to please include free lunch in the donation also, so that our chicken roasts will not be endangered.

CITIZEN.

In Effect.

Consolidated Offices.

Mr. Claude Bowles, train dispatcher of the Kentucky Midland, has also been made auditor of the road, relieving Mr. D. H. Sinclair, who has held the position since early in the summer.

The Bridge Meeting.

The mass meeting held at the Court House Monday afternoon to take action looking to making the L. & N. railroad bridge free of toll, was well attended. Dr. E. E. Hume was made chairman and Mr. John B. Dryden secretary. After listening to several speeches a committee was appointed to prepare a memorial to the County Court and the meeting adjourned.

The following is the paper prepared by the committee for presentation to the Court:

To the Honorable Franklin County Court:

Pursuant to the instructions of a large body of citizens of Franklin County in convention assembled at the Court House on Monday, October the 2d inst., the undersigned committee respectfully report to your honorable body that it was the unanimous sentiment of that convention that the County Court should take such steps as would secure to the public the free use of the L. & N. Railroad Bridge crossing the Kentucky river at Frankfort, which, your committee are advised, could be done by the county's maintaining at small cost the roadway on said bridge.

A Manual Training Lesson.

Subject—The carpenter's claw hammer. Purpose—To teach the practical uses of the hammer, the principles underlying its uses, and the principles of its construction. Method—To induce observation and the exercise of reason and judgment by directing the pupils, effort and by judicious questioning, and to impart information which the pupil may not be able to discover for himself.

It was the writer's intention to arrange this lesson in the form of question and answer, but such an arrangement occupies so much space that he decided to present the matter which would be developed in class work in a more compact form. The phraseology implies that what is here written would be given as information. Such, however, is not the case. By far the greater portion would be drawn from the pupil as indicated under the heading—Method. The members of the class are in their respective places at the work benches with the carpenter's claw hammer in their hands.

The hammer is a tool used generally for striking. There are various kinds of hammers. Each trade or occupation requires a hammer especially adapted to the character of the work to be done, as you will discover by observing mechanics at work. You have in your hand a carpenter's claw-hammer. This hammer is used for striking, nails principally, and also for drawing nails. There are two principal parts, the "handle" and the "head." The handle is made of hard wood and the head of metal. The thick portion of the handle is called the "hold," the thin portion the "neck."

The form of the handle across its length is elliptical. The handle is curved slightly in its length. This shape is given so that one may take a firm grasp of it when striking. The smallness of the neck permits the handle to spring slightly and thus to prevent a jarring of the hand when striking a heavy blow. The metal used in the head is steel. Steel is a fine quality of iron which may be hardened. Ordinary iron is too soft for a hammer, it would soon become bruised and misshapen and be unfit for use. The head has an opening through it called the "eye." The eye is larger at the end of the handle than it is where the handle enters the head. Metal wedges are driven so as to spread the end of the handle and make it fill the eye. This prevents the head from flying off the handle while it is in use. The striking part of the hammer is called the "face." Some hammers have a flat face. This one has a curved face which gives the name "ball-faced" to it. The opposite end of the head is called the "claw." It is divided into two parts called "claws," which are separated so as to admit nails of various sizes, and curved both lengthwise and crosswise so as to prevent marring the surface of lumber when a nail is drawn. The claws catch under the head of a nail which is partially above the surface into which it is driven. When pressure is applied to the end of the handle the nail is drawn. The handle acts as a lever, the head acts as both lever and fulcrum. Carpenter's hammers vary in size. This is a number 2, number 1 is larger and 3 is smaller.

To hold a hammer grasp the handle at the hold with the right hand, the thumb of that hand extended along the top of the handle with the end of the thumb pointing toward the head. The thumb is placed thus to assist in guiding the hammer and to help to increase the force of the blow. There are three kinds of blows which may be struck with a hammer, light blows, medium blows and heavy blows. A light blow is struck by bending the wrist which raises the arm upward in lifting the hammer and downward in delivering the blow, it is used when driving small nails. The medium blow requires the bending of the wrist and the elbow joints, which lifts the hammer higher, and a straightening or a partial straightening of the arm in delivering the blow. The heavy blow requires the combined action of wrist, elbow and shoulder joints in raising the hammer and in striking the blow. You may now strike several light blows upon the block of wood before you, also several medium blows, and a few hard or heavy blows.

You may now take a small wire nail, a 4 penny, and drive half its length into the edge of the block in the vise. Then draw the nail out with the hammer, observing the action of the hammer. Repeat the driving and drawing several times.

Jim Dudley's Job.

Mr. Jas. G. Dudley, late teller at the Bank of Kentucky in this city, who resigned in July and removed to Chicago, has been made chief bookkeeper at the water office in that city. In speaking of his appointment the Chicago Times of Tuesday, October 3, says:

An important reform was inaugurated yesterday in the water office. Hereafter business there is to be conducted on a business basis and books will be kept to show exactly the condition of affairs at the close of each day's business as do those of any of the large commercial houses of the city.

From the time of inception the water office has never had a bookkeeper. The only attempt at keeping books has been by the window clerks who preside over the books pertaining to the particular wards. These books have been for years copied from the books of the preceding year, all the errors and mistakes of years creeping into the new books.

Though rates in particular cases have been reduced or increased the books do not show this, care less clerks in preceding years having failed to make the proper entries. To get an idea of the outstanding accounts for the entire office it was necessary that each of the 34 clerks should make balances on their books and report it to the chief clerk. He then was able to tell the total outstanding accounts. It was found, too, that this aggregate of accounts seldom agreed with other books in the office and seldom if ever with the cashier's books.

Supt. Crossette noticed this as soon as he entered upon the duties of the office and succeeded in convincing the commissioner of public works that a new system of bookkeeping should be inaugurated. Last month J. G. Dudley, an expert accountant, was engaged to devise some system of bookkeeping which should place the affairs of the office on a business like basis. The scheme was perfected to the satisfaction of the superintendent and of the commissioner of public works, and was put in operation yesterday morning. Under it the chief bookkeeper opens an account with each ward and the clerks at the collection windows are required to report fully their transactions at the end of each day's business. In this way it will be possible at any time to tell the exact condition of the office.

How sad to our hearts are some scenes of our childhood. As our recollections present them to view; The use of the switch that was brought from the wildwood. And various punishments most of us knew. But saddest of all is the thought of the pill-box. That mother brought out when she thought we were ill. Of the gripping, the aching, the twisting and torment. Wrapped up in the horrible old-fashioned pill.

But that's all done away with. To regulate the stomach, liver and bowels, Dr. Pierce's Pellets excel. You'll experience no pain, no discomfort, no bad results. Children take them as readily as peppermint drops.

Its thousands of cures are the best advertisements for Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. 50 cents; by druggists.

The Famous Mesmerist.

Fun was fast and furious at the Opera House last night when Prof. Lee succeeded in controlling Walter Judah, Will Jackson, Park Judah and several other young men. These entertainments get more amusing and interesting each evening as they progress. Three subjects were placed in the cataleptic condition; two of them were placed with their head on one chair and their feet upon another; the third subject was then placed across the other two. Then the professor stepped upon the top and assumed an upright position, showing how much weight the body can bear when in this condition. After they were awakened they expressed themselves as feeling all right and did not realize what they had passed through. He also controlled the beating of a subject's heart, running it up to 120 beats per minute and down to 96 in the course of three minutes. But the most convincing test of the evening was that of extracting a tooth from one of his subjects while in the hypnotic state. After the subject was sufficiently under control he invited Dr. Trainor upon the stage to pull the tooth, which was a very bad one. He soon relieved the subject of the molar. No blood flowed, which would have been the case had the subject been in a normal condition. After the gentleman had been restored to consciousness he stated that he experienced no pain whatever and did not know the tooth was out until he had been told. It would be a good thing if every dentist and doctor understood how to use this wonderful power, as it could be used in all kinds of surgery, and Prof. Lee claims that in five years it will be a universal knowledge, as it can be acquired by almost everyone. The house will undoubtedly be packed every night this week and no one should miss these wonderful entertainments.—Bedford (Ind.) Daily Democrat.

This mesmerist will be seen in Frankfort soon.

Admitted the Facts.

Newspaper editors have to be very careful in opening their columns for statements. But aware that the Dr. Miles Medical Co. are responsible, we make room for the following testimonial from R. McDougall, Auburn, Ind., who for two years needed a stoppage or skipping of the pulse, his left side got so tender he could not lie on it, his heart fluttered, he was alarmed, went to different doctors, found no relief but one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure cured him. The elegant book, "New and Shattering Facts," free at J. W. Gayle's. It tells all about heart and nervous diseases and many wonderful cures. 3

A duck was received at the Adams Express Office on Monday which had three feet, the third one growing out at the back of the head. The toes and web were well developed, and the foot an inch or so long.

Benson.

Hard times are passing away. Right smart of money floating about. All of which is due to Laz. Hulette, the popular tobacco agent. Laz is helping the boys out considerably.

Pryor has sold her farm to John C. Moore, and will in a few days return to her home in the Sunny South. It is with much regret we give her up, for she was a good neighbor and a kind friend—a perfect lady in every sense of the word.

Well! It seems to be the universal sentiment of this community to have that old tired wheel horse, Hon. Dan. Moore, to succeed himself as the model Squire of the county. He has all the requirements, experience, honesty and reliability.

DANK.

Unsolicited.

The following testimonial came to us: Kenyon & Thomas Co., Adams, N. Y.: Gentlemen—For the past two years I have suffered terribly with what doctors call eczema. During this time I have consulted several physicians and used a number of well-known remedies but could get no relief, until finally I was urged to give your remedies a trial. I cannot say enough in praise of them. At present I am as well as I ever was in my life and owe my sincere thanks to you for Dr. Hale's Household Ointment and Tea. Any one desiring the sincerity of this testimonial will confer a favor by addressing, very truly yours, N. J. McNABB, Leominster, Mass.

These remedies are for sale at 25c and 50c at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

The New South and the World's Fair.

No section of the country, East, North or West, is taking a greater interest in the World's Fair at present than that portion lying south of Mason and Dixon's line, and typical Southerners, easily distinguishable in the immense throng by the graceful military bearing of the gentlemen and the rare beauty of the ladies, are to be met in great numbers on the Exposition grounds, in the corridors of the leading hotels and at the various social gatherings in the World's Fair City.

To a large extent the success of the Fair depends upon the Southern people; the Board of Managers expect hundreds of thousands of people from South of the Ohio river to attend the Exposition, and from present indications they will not be disappointed. The railroads are making comprehensive preparations to take care of the people, and their comfort enroute is fully assured.

The Big Four Route, which is the only line making connection in Central Union Station, Cincinnati, with through trains of the E. T. V. & G., Queen & Crescent Route, Louisville & Nashville R. R., Kentucky Central R. R., and Chesapeake & Ohio R. R. Naturally forms the popular outlet for Southern travel, and to accommodate the business five elegant vestibuled trains, with parlor cars, sleeping cars, dining cars and elegant coaches are run daily from Cincinnati to Chicago, stopping at Midway Plaisance, the Main Entrance to the World's Fair, 60th St., Hyde Park, 51st St., 39th St., 22d St., and running into the new 12th St. Station on the Lake Front. All the World's Fair hotels and boarding houses are located adjacent to the Big Four stations and passengers via the popular line avoid the long, tiresome transfer across the city necessary by all other lines from Cincinnati. There is positively no other line landing passengers at the stations named, and as it affords in addition to the comfort and convenience a great saving of time and expense, all the South who contemplate a trip to the World's Fair should be sure to ask for tickets via the Big Four Route.
